MAYSVILLE, KY., WEDNESDAY, MAY 27, 1885.

PRICE ONE CENT.

SPRING FEVER

At this season nearly every one needs to use some sort of tonic. IRON enters into almost every physician's prescription for those who need building up.

FOR WEAKNESS, LAZINESS, LACK OF ENERGY, &c., IT HAS NO EQUAL, and is the only iron medicine that is not injurious. It enriches the blood, invigorates the system, restores appetite, aids digestion, it does not blacken or injure the teeth, cause headache or produce constipation—other iron medicines do.

Dr. G. H. BINKLEY, a leading physician of Springfield, O., says: "Brown's Iron Bitters is a thoroughly good medicine. I use it in my practice, and find its action exceeds all other forms of iron. In weakness, or a low condition of the system, Brown's Iron Bitters is usually a positive necessity. It is all that is claimed for it."

Genuine has trade mark and crossed red lines on wrapper. Take no other. Made only by BROWN CHEMICAL CO., BALTIMORE, MD. Ladies' Hair Broom—useful and attractive, containing list of prices for recipes, information about coins, etc., given away by all dealers in medicine, or mailed to any address on receipt of 25c. stamp.

THE DOINGS OF A DAY AT THE NATIONAL GOVERNMENT SEAT.

The Ohio Delegation Ready for an Active Campaign, and the Indians are Much Delighted—Our Plateau Region—National Affairs.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—The largest political delegation now here comes from Ohio. They propose to make lively music in the departments this week, though their time will be principally directed to the postoffice department. The Cleveland postoffice is one of the largest plums they are after, and for which there are several promising candidates. Ex-Senator McDonald spent several hours with the president. He dined with him in the evening. This elates the Indians here very much, though they are free to confess that they do not know what it means. It seems to be a strange coincidence that Mr. McDonald comes on the scene just as Vice President Hendricks has departed for his home in the west.

The presidential pew at the Four and a Half Street Presbyterian church Sunday was occupied by Miss Cleveland and her guest, Miss Nelson. The pastor, Dr. Storrs, of that city, with whom he had exchanged pulpits for the day, preached, taking for his text John, ii, 11. The sermon was a doctrinal one and was devoted to a defence of the inspiration of the Bible. Dr. Storrs' manner of speaking is very attractive. In personal appearance he looks enough like Representative Curtin, of Pennsylvania, to be his twin brother. He has a bass voice, similar to that of Governor Curtin. Dr. Storrs claimed that the intelligence of the day approved the Bible, its inconsistencies being only of minor and unimportant proportions. A single leaf of it dropped in Asia Minor, he said, improved the morals of the entire country. A leaf from the knapsack of a soldier in India improved the morals of an entire regiment, and a single verse had raised the moral aspect of a home to a higher plane of purity and truth.

Frederick Douglass, with his white wife, occupied a pew several pews behind the presidential pew. As he came out of the church he divided the attention of the congregation with Miss Cleveland as she walked out to enter her coupe, drawn by the president's new seal brown horses. It was thought, in view of the sensation caused by his attending this church last Sunday that Fred Douglass would not go there again, but it appears that Mr. Douglass, with his wife, enjoyed the sensation that they produced so much that they concluded they would repeat it. Mr. Douglass has not, however, purchased a pew there.

In the afternoon, before dinner, the president and Col. Lamont took a quiet stroll of three-quarters of an hour in the neighborhood of the White House.

There was no proposition made to the regents of the Mount Vernon association at their annual meeting in regard to building a railroad from this city to Mount Vernon. This is regarded as strange, for there has been a surveying party at work on a survey for a couple of weeks. There was a pretty general demand that the association should make some kind of a financial statement, showing its exact condition and stating the condition of the endowment fund. For reasons of their own the ladies have thought best not to make any. It was somewhat of a disappointment, for no such statement has been made public for the past six years.

THE PLATEAU REGION.

Captain Dutton's Report on His Long Geological Investigations.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Capt. Clarence E. Dutton, of the ordnance department of the army, who has been engaged for ten years in the study of the geology of the great plateau region of the West, started last week for California, under instructions from Maj. Parnell, director of the geological survey, to make a study of the geological phenomena presented by the Cascade mountains, the greatest volcanic range upon the globe. Before his departure Capt. Dutton finished the manuscript of his contribution to the next annual publication of the geological survey. The paper is entitled "Mount Taylor and the Zuni Plateau," but although it treats in detail of only two features of the plateau region, the conclusions which these are made to illustrate embody in part the result of years of study extending over a very wide area.

The author traces the geological history of the region down to its present condition, finding evidences of alternating periods of moisture and dryness, of great and small uplifts of great areas and of slow and long continued rising in others, and of the denudation of immense tracts and the cutting of canyons by the waters. In the study of the Zuni mountains he finds reason for the conclusion that the mountains of the west have not been produced by horizontal compression, but by the action of some unknown forces beneath which have lifted them up. Upon the extensive plateau, of which Mount Taylor is the center, he finds ample confirmation of the theory that the volcanic cap which once covered so large a portion of the region, and which still tops many extensive mesas, had its origin, not in discharges from immense volcanic mountains like Mount Taylor itself, but through innumerable vents through the sedimentary strata. These evidences consist largely in the numerous huge "necks" of pure lava, from the vicinity of which the sedimentary deposits have been eroded.

The Bankrupt Department.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—The "bankrupt department" is what Commissioner Colman's branch of the public service is commonly called, since the revelation was made that the funds were nearly exhausted more than two months before the end of the fiscal year. Speaking of the efforts to get out of the hole Mr. Colman said: "I am cutting down my force in every direction, so that we can come out just even at the end of the fiscal year. If I cannot do it in that way I will shut up the department, for it would never do to run over in to the appropriation of another year. After that I shall turn over a new leaf and begin afresh, with an entirely new system of management. I shall try to run the bureau on strictly business principles. The expenses of each month will be made proportionate to the total expenses of the year, and will be kept within those limits. The salaries of the employees of the bureau outside of Washington will have to be reduced in order to make the funds hold out in the future; and beside this, each division will have to be so conducted as to pay for the employees in that division. I almost wished myself back in St. Louis when I found the condition the department was in. But I guess we will pull through."

The Dairy Industry.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Commissioner Colman being anxious to obtain all the facts possible pertaining to the dairy industry of the country, and particularly respecting the manufacture of articles designed as a substitute for pure butter, such as oleomargarine, butterine, suine, purola and like compounds, has prepared a circular to manufacturers of dairy products, soliciting their aid. It is his wish to place before congress and the country a complete statement of the factory products of cheese and butter, as well as of their adulterated imitations, and he suggests the propriety of making monthly records of the work of each manufacturer in order that returns may be obtained more readily for such time as may be deemed best to aggregate the result. "October," he says, "being the month when cheese-making declines, it may be decided to have all the returns of butter and cheese production terminate then, allowing six months for the dairy season. This would better determine the comparative production of one state with another, as in the summer months the conditions of food will be more uniform, the cows consuming alike the natural grasses."

Went Home on a Wheel.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—A West Virginian, who has been here since March 15 seeking a minor appointment, suddenly realized that his case and credit had both given out. Being an expert bicyclist, he stole a machine from a gentleman who resides on Eighteenth street, near M, and started for home over the nearest turnpike. Before leaving he wrote a note to the owner of the bicycle, stating that he had borrowed it and would return the machine in good order by express. "I would rather hoe corn hills in West Virginia at twenty-five cents per day than wait around Washington for a cabinet place," said the note in conclusion.

Simply Informal.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Secretary Whitney has returned to Washington. He says the inspection of the Omaha while in New York was simply informal, and that no conclusion was reached concerning the extravagant repairs to that vessel.

Fifty Happy Men.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Fifty fourth-class postmasters were appointed, mostly to fill vacancies caused by resignations, etc., but of this number fifteen postmasters in Indiana were removed presumably for offensive partisanship.

Postmasters Appointed.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—The president appointed a large number of postmasters in Pennsylvania, Texas and Wyoming; also James E. Kackley at Vincennes, Ind.

Personal Mention.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Commissioner Coleman has left for St. Louis to attend the Wool Growers' convention.

Mr. Eph B. Ewing, of Jefferson City, Mo., has arrived to qualify as consul general to Mexico.

THE FATE OF THE MANISTEE.

Capt. McKay's Last Words Found in a Sealed Bottle.

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 27.—It is now eighteen months since the steamer Manistee went down in a terrific gale on Lake Superior, and all on board perished. Nothing has been seen or heard from the Manistee since, but an occasional bucket or piece of timber washed ashore in the vicinity of Fish creek, Wis., until last Sunday afternoon, when a party of trout fishers, while angling up Fish creek, which runs into the lake at Ashland, Wis., some distance from its mouth, found a sealed bottle containing a piece of paper, on which was written: "On board Manistee. Terrible storm to-night; may not live to see morning. Yours to the world,

"JOHN MCKAY." McKay was captain of the Manistee at the time of the disaster. The people of Ashland, with whom McKay was in the habit of doing business, carefully compared the handwriting on the slip of paper found in the bottle with receipts and other documents of the late captain, and pronounce the handwriting on the slip to be his without question. The slip of paper has been sent to the widow of the late Capt. McKay for further identification.

MYSTERIOUS FIRE.

T. C. Campbell's Residence in Cincinnati, O., Totally Destroyed—Narrow Escape.

CINCINNATI, May 27.—In the absence of T. C. Campbell and wife since last Wednesday, leaving two sons, Hamilton and George, at home, the gardener, Charles Evans, and his wife, who acted as housekeeper, became angered because the sons would not permit the use of the horse and buggy for the gardener to come to the city and get drunk, whereupon the married couple packed their possessions and left the premises, the two boys being alone. They cooked a meal for themselves, and no fire had been used in the house since; but before daylight they were awakened by the crackling of the burning wood, and found the halls and stairways filled with smoke. They escaped by jumping from a second story window. The house was entirely destroyed, and all of its contents, including a law library of 5,000 volumes, and valued at $5,000. The house was valued at $15,000, and its other contents at more than $5,000, partly covered by insurance.

Selling the Military Reservation.

FORT SMITH, Ark., May 27.—Up to the present time 263 lots on the abandoned military reservation have been sold. Total amount realized, $105,339. There are still 933 lots to be disposed of.

THE EUROPEAN MARKET.

DEPRESSION IN THE BOURSES AND STOCK EXCHANGES.

Monetary Affairs in Germany, France and England—An American Suicide. Spain and America—Vanderbilt. General Foreign News.

BERLIN, May 27.—The slow progress of the Afghan negotiations has had a depressing effect on exchange during the week. Even if no belief is felt in its acuteness, yet it serves as a pretext for realization. A greater limitation of business from the German Boersensteuer is expected, and as the first semester has not been very lucky for the banks, the prospects for bank dividends seem rather dark. Therefore bank stocks here throughout are weak, while rent values are held rather firm, principally by the most exceptional abundance of money. Russian gold loans are covered here by London bankers to great amounts, and they therefore prevent a greater decline. Austrian railroads are very weak. The monthly receipts of those are not satisfactory, and a further reduction is expected as a consequence of the German duty on grain and crops, the reports being unfavorable. The quotations for the "ultimo" of May are: Russians, new, 93 1-2; old, 92 1-2; Credit-Anstalt, 468; Disconto-Gesellschaft, 1,003; German Bank, 145; London, short, 20.41; long, 20.35 1-2. The tendency is very quiet.

The Paris Bourse.

PARIS, May 27.—All speculation has been brought to a standstill. The portefeuille commercial of the bank of France steadily diminishes every week. Since last Monday it has lost 50,000,000 francs, reducing the total to 776,000,000 francs, for an encasement of 2,100,000,000 francs, and a circulation of 2,794,000,000 francs. There is no confidence in the future. All trade and industry is far worse than last year. There are strong hopes that the government or the municipal council will give practical aid to the situation. Meanwhile everybody is waiting, Micawber like, for something to turn up.

On 'Change.

LONDON, May 27.—The Economist summarizes financial matters thus: "We are disposed to regard the position of the Stock Exchange at the present time as one of extreme danger should a sudden or unexpected outbreak of hostilities occur. There is at the present time no large speculation for a fall, which always acts as a safety valve in times of panic and excitement. The position of accounts is vastly changed from what it was three or four weeks ago. The 'bears' have closed their accounts and now operate in the other direction."

AN AMERICAN SUICIDE.

John Loomis Shock of the United States Navy, shoots Himself.

LONDON, May 27.—At No. 6 Glenmole Terrace, Hyde Vale, Blackheath, John Loomis Shock, aged 25, a lieutenant in the United States navy, committed suicide. He had occupied apartments there for some time, and a friend of the name of Nixon had been staying with him. Shock retired to rest as usual and in the morning, about noon, he did not appear. Mr. Nixon entered the bedroom and found him dead on the bed with a pillow over his head and a bullet wound in his left temple. The bed clothes were drawn down. He clasped with both hands a pistol, one hand over the muzzle, the other over the trigger, his head beneath the pillow, resting on his arm, and he lying face downward. The surgeon who was sent for formed the opinion that death was instantaneous. No report of the pistol had been heard. The deceased had made a will and left several letters, one addressed to a gentleman who resides on the other side of Blackheath, another to a young lady. The coroner will hold an inquest.

Clinging to the Crucifix.

EDINBURGH, May 27.—A Great sensation has been caused in the free church circles over the alleged apostasy of Dr. Adam Stuart Muir, of the Trinity free church. Mr. Muir, whose appeal from his dismissal for "popish practices," has just been unsuccessfully heard by the general assembly of the free church of Scotland. Dr. Muir was accused of teaching baptismals, regeneration, worshiping before the crucifix, etc. He defended himself in an eloquent address during which he horrified the assembly when he quoted Cardinal Newman's hymn, "Lead Kindly Light," and taking an ivory crucifix amid from his coat pocket, held it out in his hand hisses and cries of shame, whereat he cried out that he would die with this emblem of faith upon his bosom. It is expected he will enter a Romanish church.

Castilian Anger.

MADRID, May 27.—There is great indignation here at the American delay in confirming the commercial treaty. The congress men and merchants of Castile held a meeting, at which a resolution was introduced asking the administration to retire from the present agreement and refuse to enter into any new treaty whatever with the United States. After a prolonged discussion the motion was withdrawn in the interests of Cuba and Porto Rico. The province of Castile exports large quantities of grain to Cuba; hence it is greatly interested in all Cuban treaties.

Still Arming for War.

LONDON, May 27.—The news has just been made public that the cabinet have decided that the over-night work in the royal arsenal, which had been relinquished pending the diplomatic negotiations, be resumed, especially in the laboratory and foundry for the manufacture of small arms, ammunition, shot and shell. Orders have also been given to expedite the arming and manning of several ocean steamers both at home and abroad as auxiliaries to the royal navy.

Mr. W. H. Vanderbilt.

QUEENSTOWN, May 27.—Mr. W. H. Vanderbilt, with his son and physician, has arrived on the Germanic, after a good passage and in improved health. He landed and went to Killarney and Glengarriff. To a correspondent Mr. Vanderbilt said that he would return next Friday on the same steamer. He had crossed for an ocean voyage and to see the icebergs and had no business whatever in view.

The Guards at Suakin.

ALEXANDRIA, May 27.—The guards have arrived here from Suakin. The men are in good condition and appeared in good spirits. They will remain here awaiting further orders from the war office.

Archbishop of Dublin.

DUBLIN, May 27.—A telegram from a high ecclesiastic in Rome states that Dr. William Walsh, president of Maynooth college, has been named by the pope as Archbishop of Dublin.

BIG SENSATION.

A Naughty Trial Stirs Up the Elite of Classic Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, May 27.—The trial of James Graham Pearce, charged with attempting to violate the person of Mrs. Estelle M. Kirkland, at the Albion hotel last March, has begun. There was an immense crowd of spectators present, the fashionable people predominating.

The first important witness examined was the prosecutrix herself, Mrs. Kirkland. She is about thirty-five years old, has a neat figure and is very prepossessing in appearance. The mention of her name caused considerable commotion and the throng of spectators almost climbed on each others' shoulders to get a glimpse of her.

She was given a seat immediately in front of the jury. She wept bitterly, and her sobs were audible throughout the court-room. The prisoner sat behind her, and as she related her story his face flushed and gave evidence that he did not enjoy his position.

She testified that on the night of March 14th last, at the Albion hotel, she was awakened by a noise made by Pearce in getting into her room through the window. She then described the alleged assault made upon her by Pearce, and how she finally escaped from him, going to the servants' room, where she remained all night.

The testimony of Mrs. Kirkland caused a big sensation, and if published in the columns of a newspaper would be a treat to those fond of prurient reading matter.

Round About Europe.

LONDON, May 27.—Sir Peter Lamsden has arrived at Baku and proceeded on his way to Tiflis, en route for London.

The armored train at Suakin surprised a body of Arabs tearing up rails of the new railway and opened fire upon them. It is estimated that the rebels lost several hundred men.

The wanton defacement of pictures at the academy continues. The acts of vandalism are generally committed before the daily opening hour. The guilty persons are believed to be employees. There are scratches a foot long on some of the paintings.

The race for the Prix de Diane at Paris was won by M. Michel Ephraïm's three-year-old chestnut filly Barberina. M. A. Staub's three-year-old chestnut filly Diapree was second, and Baron Schickler's three-year-old bay filly Escarboucle third.

Mr. William O'Brien, member of parliament for Malton and editor of the United Ireland, addressed a meeting of Irish Nationalists at Cullaville, county Armagh. He denounced the government's land purchase bill, which he said was a delusion and a snare, and was intended not to benefit the Irish people, but to catch the votes of the Whigs of Ulster.

MAJ. BURKE'S STATEMENT.

He Has Not Been Called Upon to Pay the Exposition Debt.

NEW ORLEANS, May 27.—Referring to the report that Director General Burke had become responsible for obligations of world's exposition to the amount of $150,000, and was financially involved thereby, Maj. Burke said that the report is incorrect. The total indebtedness to Louisiana creditors, unpaid on the 20th inst., was $105,000, half of which has been paid and the balance will be paid in full.

Maj. Burke declares that he has not been called upon to surrender property to meet exposition liabilities, as has been widely published, and that his family can pay three dollars for every one they owe. He expresses himself as grateful for the sympathy shown by his journalistic friends for his supposed financial misfortune, and said his health was excellent.

"NO QUARTER!"

Lo, the Poor Indian, Will Go to the Happy Hunting Ground.

TUCSON, Ariz., May 27.—Lordsburg advises that the soldiers have attacked the Indians on the Blue river. The soldiers were compelled to retreat with three wounded. It is believed the Indians will attempt to recross into Sonora via Arizona.

It will be impossible for them to do so without coming into contact with troops and cowboys who are guarding every pass. There are fully 120 thoroughly armed men tracking the Indians. Should they meet the hostiles before they get into Mexico there will be a fight to the death. Bucks, squaws and papooses will share the fate of extermination. "No quarter" is the cry of the cowboys.

TWO MEN LYNCHED.

Quick Work in Ending the Lives of Fire-Bugs.

FRANKLIN, May 27.—A mob of seventy-five or a hundred men very quietly took from jail Wes. Hicks and Jerry Taylor, who were charged with burning James Whisler's barn and residence some time ago, placed them on horses, and started for the country. The bodies of Wes. Hicks and Jerry Taylor were found suspended to a limb in Tennessee, eight miles from this place. Both confessed to the crime, and great excitement prevails. Hundreds of people are hurrying to the scene.

Mackin-Gallagher.

CHICAGO, May 27.—The trial of the Mackin-Gallagher suit has been set for June 10. The understanding is that if Mr. Stiles, who has a case to attend to at South Bend, Ind., on June 8, is unable to be present, the hearing shall be adjourned from day to day.
